

Celebrating a good start to life

2019 Perinatal and Infant Mental Health Symposium

In recognition of the importance of the first 1000 days of life, Women and Newborn Health Service is happy to present this one day symposium on supporting the early parenting environment. Exploring evidence based strategies that scaffold mothers and families during the perinatal period gives us the best opportunity to work with families to promote a good start to life.

Special guests include Professors Megan Galbally, John Newnham, Gareth Baynam, Rebecca Anglin, Clare Rees as well as Doctors Lisa Miller & Shivanti Senaratne, Rochelle Matacz, Kelli MacMillan, Angela O'Connor and Terri Smith.

Venue: Harry Perkins Institute of Medical Research Auditorium – QEII Medical Centre
Date: Friday 29 March 2019
Time: 8:30am – 4:30pm
Cost: $70 - $90 Early bird closes 27 Feb
Contact: Lea.davidson@health.wa.gov.au women & infants research foundation